Our academic theme

Anyone who has spent any time with young children would have a difficult time denying the fascination young children, from very early in development, have with animals. How often have your walks been interrupted by your child's questions about animals they see around them? To satisfy our children's curiosity and fascination, this month's theme is all about creatures great and small! They will be taking away knowledge and appreciation about the creatures that share the world we live in!

Special Activities!

Field Trip! In accordance to our theme for the month, we are going to visit some places where the children can look at the different animals and have fun while doing so!

March 15th – Pre Nursery & Nursery

March 24th – Pre K & KG
